7 ILLEGAL DEER SHOT ON FIRST DAY OF SEASON

Five Spike Bucks And Two Doe Found By Wardens In South- ern Section Of Mountains.

Bucks are still reported as plentiful and the hunters in the camps of the county report seeing a number of deer, but just how many have been shot by the various camps has not as yet been reported.

Game wardens in Adams, Franklin and Cumberland counties have reported a number of illegal kills, seven having been reported found between the Mason-Dixon line and Caledonia on the opening day while a number more have been found in the section north of the Lincoln Highway. The illegal kills found Thursday include two does and five spike bucks.

With the beginning of the new week the camps which have not secured their quota of six deer are expected to begin their drives, which were forewarned during the first three days of the season because of the large number of "pot" hunters, who profit more by the drives than do the members of the camps.

With a half holiday in the factories many of the employees were out in the mountains today. So far no hunting accidents have been reported in this section.

George Starry, Biglerville, shot an 8-point buck, Thursday morning, while hunting in the mountains west of Biglerville.

BUILD SCENERY FOR NEW PLAY

Complete New Set Is Prepared For Presentation of Comedy at Biglerville.

A complete set of stage scenery has been constructed for the presentation of "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" by students at the Biglerville high school, which will be given at the Community hall at that place on December 9.

Through the efforts of Miss Jessica G. Weaver, directress of the three-act comedy drama, and the other members of the faculty suitable scenery for the play was built and will be used in the production.

The plot of the comedy centers around the growth of an innocent fib to a lie of great proportions and promises a number of laughs. The play was a popular attraction on the New York stage for a long run several years ago.

Robert Bucher, Bendersville, as Jack Temple, and Marion Miller, Biglerville, as Mrs. Temple, are the leading characters, while the comedy element is supplied by Thurston Bucher, of Biglerville, who has a marked ability in comedy roles.

The other members of the cast are LeRoy Lady as Frank Fuller, Stanley Tyson as Captain Sharpe, Floyd Sell as John Brown, Gladys Blocher as Dorothy, Edith Fohl as Mrs. Frank Fuller and Hazel Robert as Mrs. Brown.

Gets 4 Chances To Shoot at Two Deer; Gun Fails

The laurels for the most disgusted hunter in seven states go to William Hartman, who lives above Arendtsville.

Mr. Hartman has been an ardent hunter for the last 23 years, never failing to shoulder his trusty rifle and go on the trail of deer, with the recurrent season, but according to friends of his who relate the incident he had never secured his buck.

This year Mr. Hartman went out on the opening day with the camp of which he is a member and a short time after he had begun trailing he espied two bucks grazing in a field. One was an eight pointer and the other a 4-pointer.

Taking careful aim, Mr. Hartman pulled the trigger and instead of the usual report a dull click was all that was heard and the bucks never moved.

Taking careful aim again he pressed the trigger with the same results. Two more times and again the two clicks and the deer grazed on unperturbed.

Mr. Hartman it is reported returned to camp and packing his kit and gun returned home immediately.

BREAM-SINGLEY TEAMS BATTLE

High School Title Contenders Meet at State College; Have Ex-Bullets As Coaches.

FIRST HALF
Mt. Carmel, 7; Bellefonte, 0.

Shortly before noon today officials had announced that the championship football game between "Junie" Bream's Bellefonte eleven, winners of the western conference, and Ray Singley's Mt. Carmel squad, winners of the eastern conference, would be played despite four inches of snow fall.

A crew of men were placed at work clearing the field of snow, while others were put to work chalking the field for the yardage lines.

Bream's eleven was housed in a country club-house nearby, awaiting game time, while Singley's eleven were quartered in a downtown hotel, anxiously awaiting the whistle that would send them into action, the result of which will determine the state high school championship.

Coach Hen Bream, of the Gettysburg college bullets; C. C. Bream, father of the Bellefonte coach; Jerry and Don Bream, brothers of the mentor, and Ira Plank left this morning for State College, where the game will be played on New Beaver field.

Interest is state-wide in the contest this afternoon and local friends of the two coaches are divided in their opinions as to the outcome. Bream is a native of Gettysburg and a graduate of the high school and college. Singley is a graduate of Gettysburg college and has a wide circle of friends here, who are unable to fix a definite opinion. In either event, victory for one or the other will find expressions of rejoicing in Gettysburg.

This is Bream's first coaching position, in fact his first year out of college, and he has set a new mark for others to shoot at—coaching a high school eleven through an undefeated season and battling today for the state title.

200 MADE ILL AT CHURCH SUPPER

Ptomaine Poisoning Afflicts All Who Dined on Chicken Gravy at Dinner.

Punxsutawney, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Two hundred persons who attended a chicken supper at the First Baptist church here were recovering today from the effects of ptomaine poisoning, believed to have been caused by gravy remaining too long in a container. All of those served at the supper were made ill, a dozen or more seriously, but physicians expected all of them to recover.

Women of the church prepared the supper at their homes and served it in the church auditorium. When the food was brought to the church all the gravy was poured into one large container. Physicians believed that the gravy prepared by one of the women had stood too long.

Pheasant, Fleeing Hunters, Meets Death In Contact With Father Whalen's Thick Head

Orrtanna, Dec. 3.—The Rev. Father Will Whalen admits he always feels slightly uncomfortable in Buchanan Valley during the deer hunting season. He was nearly struck by a bullet from a long-range rifle some years ago. The pellet zipped through his fly-vest while he was driving on a back road.

Yesterday afternoon, he had a unique experience. He was on his porch when something came with a terrific impetus, struck him on the side of the head and knocked him down. He said he remembered the whir of wings and thought sure it was the angel Gabriel. But he found it was a hen pheasant. She was just giving her last kick. The woods were ringing with shots and the bird, maddened with fright, had been speeding at random.

"Better to break her neck than mine," said the priest-author. "I'll make a good dinner out of her, while she could never relish my carcass. No, she had not been wounded by any bullet. My skull did it. That pheasant was a sport. She hit on the fly, but she didn't hit and run." This story comes from Father Whalen himself.

DEER HUNTER, 81, GETS BUCK AS DAWN APPEARS

"Uncle Billy" Benchoff, aged 81 years, in all probability the oldest deer hunter in this section of the country, is thought to be the first hunter to kill a deer this season in the Charnian-Monterey section.

"Uncle Billy" left the cabin at the head of Tom's creek, northwest of Greenstone, shortly before sunrise Thursday morning. Using his lantern to light the way, he walked to Wolf's rock where he took his stand and waited until the sun peeped over the hills giving the signal to the hunters that the 1927 deer season was under way.

Shortly after sunrise a large buck appeared on the scene about 49 yards from where the hunter was conducting his vigil. Proving his expert marksmanship, "Uncle Billy" took careful aim and fired. The bullet struck the buck in the eye-ball and came out in back of his opposite ear.

I. O. O. F. AFTER NEW BUILDING

Considering Purchase of Building, Part of Which Will Be Used For Lodge Rooms.

Purchase of a building, part of which would be used as a lodge room, will be considered at a meeting of Gettysburg lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Tuesday evening.

J. E. Snyder, secretary of the lodge, has sent notices to all members, urging them to attend Tuesday evening's meeting and participate in the deliberations.

For a number of years, the Odd Fellows have occupied most of the third floor of the First National bank building, Centre Square. The lease on the present quarters expires April 1, 1928, and trustees of the lodge, who have had the renewing of the lease in charge, will present all facts before the lodge members on Tuesday.

According to officers of the lodge, the bank will renew the present lease at an annual rental several hundred dollars in excess of the present figure which members of the organization admit has been very low.

The building committee of the Odd Fellows have been busy for some time looking for a suitable building as a new home, and it is thought probable that the committee will present several propositions to the lodge members next Tuesday evening.

COUNCILMEN TAKE MATTERS LIGHTLY AT LAST SESSION

Three Retiring Mem- bers Present At Final Meeting; To Ordain Street.

Characterized by a conspicuous absence of business, but a superabundance of jollification and numerous exchanges of pleasantries, the last regular meeting of council for 1927 was held at the fire engine house, Friday evening.

The December meeting brought to a close four-year terms of two-thirds of the nine councilmen, three of whom, however, were re-elected to their positions on November 8. Terms of Councilmen Rex, Oyer, Dickson, McIlhenny, Schnurman and Stock expired this year, but voters returned Councilmen Oyer, Dickson and Stock.

To Elect Councilman
When the new council convenes in January, one of the first items of business will be selection of a councilman to fill the place of C. Ray Rupp, elected in the third ward last month, but who afterward announced that he would not qualify.

The two other new faces around the council table next month will be Harry Stouffer, first ward, and George Taylor, second ward.

Just before adjournment, Friday evening, Burgess C. A. Heiges thanked the out-going members for their co-operation in the last two years. "You have done excellent work and are to be congratulated," the burgess said.

Council voted to advertise an ordinance ordaining Ridge avenue, formerly McMillan lane. The ordination of the proposed street had been before council for several months, having been brought up by Captain Calvin Gilbert, who has laid out a number of lots along the east side of the street, for a real estate development.

Protests Dynamiting
A lengthy communication from Dr. Frank H. Kramer, member of the faculty at Gettysburg college, protesting against unprotected blasts of dynamite in the north end of town, and heavy blasts at the Auburn Shale Brick company plant, west of the borough limits, was read. In the communication, Dr. Kramer said that flying debris has damaged the roof of his garage and the roofs of several other buildings in the north end. One particularly heavy blast during the summer threw him out of bed, he wrote. The communication was given to the burgess for investigation.

After attention had been called to the practice of boys throwing stones at the glass building at the sewage disposal plant, council voted to place signs around the fence at the Rock Creek plant, warning that violators would be prosecuted.

Burgess Heiges' report was read as follows:
Building permits, $3; digging permits, $35; sewer permits, $1.50, and peddlers' licenses, $12.50. Total, $52.

Councilmen present at the meeting were President P. C. Stock, W. A. Miller, G. W. Rex, W. L. Oyer, C. E. Tawney, N. B. Schnurman and Jesse E. Snyder.

Camp Hill, Dec. 3.—(AP)—The water supply in the apartment of Mrs. Margaret Blair, which was shut off on Tuesday by her cousin, C. C. Miller, who is trying to evict her, was turned on again today. Mrs. Blair was considerably cheered by this turn in events and reiterated her announcement that she would remain in her quarters indefinitely.

Her physical condition was much improved she said. She consulted a physician by telephone and today she said she felt much better.

The woman was ordered out of her apartment by her cousin November 1. She refused to go claiming that she had paid for the building of the apartment which she occupied, although the title was in Miller's name.

Women Win Right
To Gamble With Men

Paris — Women have broken down another barrier. They are now admitted to the baccarat room at the Pavillon-Royal Casino in Biarritz, a room where heretofore men were able to gamble to their heart's content—or their pocketbook's capacity—far from the eyes of wives or other females possessing ideas of how much a man ought to be allowed to lose at one sitting.

The gambling fever is so high at Biarritz—society's autumn rendezvous in France—that three casinos are prospering here. One is conducted by the municipality. The other two are privately owned.

BEACH ON STAND
DEFENDS SELF

Denies All Charges of Killing ing and That He Is Lover of Doctor's Widow.

May's Landing, Dec. 3.—(AP)—For two hours, Willis Beach defended himself against a charge of murder at the morning session of the Lilliendahl murder trial.

He denied that he had any part in the killing of Doctor Lilliendahl whose widow is his co-defendant, that he had ever confessed the killing to a circus cowboy in Baltimore and that he had ever had a love affair with the co-defendant which might have furnished a motive for the crime.

He was a placid witness, even seeming to enjoy the prominence of his position in the box. Once he permitted himself a pun and at another time made a "wise crack" about the efficiency of the police who sought him for 10 days when he was hiding after the crime.

He testified that during that time he was living in an attic of a friend's home in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Lilliendahl was an interested spectator of her co-defendant's testimony and nodded and smiled when he testified that the "Peggy Anderson" letters which passed between them were not secret love notes but queries on Beach's part as to her husband's health and formal replies on her part.

Margaret Lilliendahl and Willis Beach, who for four days were pictured through prosecution witnesses as the murderers of the woman's aged husband, were presented to the jury yesterday in the light of innocent and injured persons entirely unconnected with the crime.

Opening addresses for the defense were delivered when court opened and during the rest of the day the bulk of the defense testimony was presented, although the dramatic moment was not reached when the defendants themselves are to take the stand to tell their own stories.

Yesterday's testimony was to the effect that Beach was nowhere near the scene of the crime when Dr. A. William Lilliendahl was shot to death, that two negroes were there and fled as though pursued by the shadow of death itself, and that there was no motive for the defendants to have committed the crime.

Witnesses For Both
Beach was supposed to present his witnesses first and then Mrs. Lilliendahl's were to go on, but so many of the men, women and children called to the stand were witnesses for both defendants that it was decided to let both defense attorneys question anyone called in order to save time.

The alibi for Beach was built up from testimony of almost a score of witnesses. He was seen driving near his home in the early morning of the day of the crime by two women and a man. At 10:30 o'clock he was said to have been in his own home by his son, Ray, and Ray's wife said her father-in-law stayed right there until lunch at noon.

The three had lunch together and at 12:30 Willis Beach drove away in his car. This was corroborated by a carpenter who was doing some work around the Beach home. At 1:15 three witnesses testified that he arrived at the office of a graveyard monument factory in Hammonont, and testimony followed that from then until after 4 o'clock he was with one of those three. Previous testimony had placed him back at his home village of Vineland about 5.

FRIEND OF REMUS
LAST WITNESS

Defendant in Murder Trial Will Go On Stand As Soon As Cross Examining Ends.

Cincinnati, Dec. 3.—(AP)—George Remus' most intimate associate of the last eight or nine years appeared as a witness for him in his murder trial here yesterday.

He was George Connors, now a legitimate dealer in whiskey, after serving a sentence in the Atlanta federal penitentiary with Remus for violation of the federal prohibition law.

Connors, tall, lithe, curly-haired, clean-shaven and a picture of sartorial perfection, ascended the witness stand at 3:51 p. m. Five minutes later he was deep in the narration of the long chain of circumstances which caused him to reach a conclusion as to Remus' mental condition last October 6 when he shot and killed his estranged wife, Imogene Holmes Remus.

Until he had told of the observations which led him to his opinion as to Remus' sanity or insanity he was not permitted to state his conclusions. He was ready, however, to say Remus was insane on the fatal day.

Connors was the last witness for the defense ahead of the defendant himself.

There was little hope that Remus would be reached before late today, however, for interrogation of Connors was not complete at adjournment yesterday. Completion of Connors' direct testimony and a planned lengthy cross-examination indicated it might be Monday before Remus would get to the witness stand.

The appearance of the mysterious Connors brought the high point of an otherwise dull and dreary session. From the very inception of the murder trial his name had played a part in the interrogation of nearly every witness.

The prosecution in its opening statement named Connors as one of three who planned with Remus the slaying of Mrs. Remus. It would be shown, the state asserted, that when Remus killed his wife he was not a transiently insane lone slayer, but instead he was a coolly calculating executioner appointed at a conspiracy hatched the previous night. Connors, Blanche Watson, Remus' secretary, and George Klug, who drove the Remus' automobile into Eden park where Mrs. Remus was shot, were named as the conspirators with Remus.

Silk "Discovered"
By Peasant Girls

Warsaw, Poland, (AP)—Polish peasant girls, to be in the latest style, simply must have a crepe de chine blouse or dress for Sundays, otherwise they would die from jealousy or anger.

It all happened because two young students introduced some silk worms into the country and now the silk industry is flourishing.

Poland is nevertheless, a country of beautiful linen. Fields of flax are seen everywhere and nearly all peasant cloth, though very thick, at times, is pure linen.

But a peasant woman who for centuries have been wearing only wool and linen now find their wardrobe incomplete without a silk blouse or dress.

BIDS $2500 FOR

Society Matron Would Have
Order to Bob Hair.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—(AP)—A New York and Chicago society woman advertised yesterday for a left ear and last night she had one applicant willing to give an ear, but demanding $4000 for it instead of the $2500 offered.

The newspaper advertisement offered $2500 through the woman's attorney "for one left ear to be grafted on client" and specified that the operation was to be performed by a competent surgeon and the matter would be kept strictly confidential. Applicants were required to be light-skinned; not more than 25 years old and to submit photographs.

Jay J. McCarthy said he was attorney for the woman who wants an ear and whom he described as a society woman of New York, formerly of Chicago, who lost the ear a few years ago in an automobile accident.

The woman, the attorney said, has been forced to wear long hair to cover the deformity and now desires to bob it. "Besides," said the attorney, "I understand fashion decrees that ears be shown this season."

McCarthy, announcing the application to give an ear, received yesterday said it was from a married woman and a mother, who put the price at $4000.

McCarthy said his client intended to give as much as $5000 if the operation were a success.

TWO BULLETS ON CONFERENCE PICK

Cramer and McMillan Picked by Harrisburg Writer For Berths on First Squad.

Although Gettysburg college led the Central Pennsylvania Collegiate football conference, only two of its players were picked on the first team of the All-Conference eleven picked by the Harrisburg Patriot sports editor. They are Cramer, who is picked for the left end position, and McMillan, who is undoubtedly the best quarterback in the conference. Both men played in the game on the Island against Dickinson, McMillan scoring the touchdowns and starring in the game against the Carlisle collegians.

Cramer is a good kicker his punts equalling those of the famous Greasy Neal. He did not play the end position the entire season, but played in conference games.

Franklin and Marshall college is given one berth in the first team that of left tackle which goes to Sorchinsky who surpasses the other tackles in personal work.

Nick Borelli and Eddie Dickert both Muhlenberg college stars in the backfield take the halfback positions. They worked the positions together on the Muhlenberg team, and when they played good the Allentown collegians went good. Nick Borelli is a triple threat, doing splendid forward passing work, splendid dropkicking, and very good defense work. Dickert also is a good man on defense and is a splendid ball runner.

Ursinus shares in the first team with Joll at right guard and Schell at center. Schell has had more experience than Miller, of Gettysburg, although opponents have found it difficult to break through Miller's side of the line.

Players On The Second Team
The second team is composed of three Ursinus players, four Gettysburg players, one Muhlenberg, one Franklin and Marshall player and two Dickinson players.

Faust of Ursinus showed up in a close second to Cramer and Baiz as a wingman. Slaughter, Gettysburg tackle and Miller, another Gettysburg tackle are the tackle choices. Gordon, Muhlenberg, center is a good steady consistent football player at the center position. According to the Muhlenberg athletic officials he was regarded on a par with Nick Borelli and Dickert at the Allentown institution.

Moyer, Ursinus quarterback, who receives the second team position, is being selected on many All-Eastern teams. He probably should have reversed places with McMillan, of Gettysburg, but McMillan was given the first team place because he was out of the play several games with injuries and did not get as much chance to show his speed as did Moyer.

Jeffers, Moyer's running mate, played a wonderful brand of ball wherever he appeared. He is accepted as a part of Moyer's success as Earl Britton is with Red Grange's success.

Kost and Williams, both of Gettysburg, showed up well in their positions. The two players did not participate in every Gettysburg game because of the change in the squad. Williams played more different positions than any other man on the Bullet team.

Hayes, Dickinson and Chapel, of Franklin and Marshall teams received the other second team selections. Chapel is finishing his career at the Lancaster college. He showed up well in the final game with Gettysburg, Thanksgiving Day. He is a good kicker.

Women Win Right To Gamble With Men

Paris—Women have broken down another barrier. They are now admitted to the baccarat room at the Pavillon Royal Casino in Biarritz, a room where heretofore men were able to gamble to their heart's content—or their pocketbook's capacity—far from the eyes of wives or other females possessing ideas of how much a man ought to be allowed to lose at one sitting.

The gambling fever is so high at Biarritz—society's autumn rendezvous in France—that three casinos are prospering here. One is conducted by the municipality. The other two are privately owned.

BEACH ON STAND DEFENDS SELF

Denies All Charges of Killing ing and That He Is Lover of Doctor's Widow.

May's Landing, Dec. 3.—(AP)—For two hours, Willis Beach defended himself against a charge of murder at the morning session of the Lilliendahl murder trial.

He denied that he had any part in the killing of Doctor Lilliendahl whose widow is his co-defendant, that he had ever confessed the killing to a circus cow boy in Baltimore and that he had ever had a love affair with the co-defendant which might have furnished a motive for the crime.

He was a placid witness, even seeming to enjoy the prominence of his position in the box. Once he permitted himself a pun and at another time made a "wise crack" about the efficiency of the police who sought him for 10 days when he was hiding after the crime.

He testified that during that time he was living in an attic of a friend's home in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Lilliendahl was an interested spectator of her co-defendant's testimony and nodded and smiled when he testified that the "Peggy Anderson" letters which passed between them were not secret love notes but queries on Beach's part as to her husband's health and formal replies on her part.

Margaret Lilliendahl and Willis Beach, who for four days were pictured through prosecution witnesses as the murderers of the woman's aged husband, were presented to the jury yesterday in the light of innocent and injured persons entirely unconnected with the crime.

Opening addresses for the defense were delivered when court opened and during the rest of the day the bulk of the defense testimony was presented, although the dramatic moment was not reached when the defendants themselves are to take the stand to tell their own stories.

Yesterday's testimony was to the effect that Beach was nowhere near the scene of the crime when Dr. A. William Lilliendahl was shot to death, that two negroes were there and fled as though pursued by the shadow of death itself, and that there was no motive for the defendants to have committed the crime.

Witnesses For Both

Beach was supposed to present his witnesses first and then Mrs. Lilliendahl's were to go on, but so many of the men, women and children called to the stand were witnesses for both defendants that it was decided to let both defense attorneys question anyone called in order to save time.

The alibi for Beach was built up from testimony of almost a score of witnesses. He was seen driving near his home in the early morning of the day of the crime by two women and a man. At 10:30 o'clock he was said to have been in his own home by his son, Ray, and Ray's wife said her father-in-law stayed right there until lunch at noon.

The three had lunch together and at 12:30 Willis Beach drove away in his car. This was corroborated by a carpenter who was doing some work around the Beach home. At 1:15 three witnesses testified that he arrived at the office of a graveyard monument factory in Hammonton, and testimony followed that from then until after 4 o'clock he was with one of those three. Previous testimony had placed him back at his home village of Vineland about 5.

FRIEND OF REMUS LAST WITNESS

Defendant in Murder Trial Will Go On Stand As Soon As Cross Examining Ends.

Cincinnati, Dec. 3.—(AP)—George Remus' most intimate associate of the last eight or nine years appeared as a witness for him in his murder trial here yesterday.

He was George Connors, now a legitimate dealer in whiskey, after serving a sentence in the Atlanta federal penitentiary with Remus for violation of the federal prohibition law.

Connors, tall, lithe, curly-haired, clean-shaven and a picture of sartorial perfection, ascended the witness stand at 3:51 p. m. Five minutes later he was deep in the narration of the long chain of circumstances which caused him to reach a conclusion as to Remus' mental condition last October 6 when he shot and killed his estranged wife, Imogene Holmes Remus.

Until he had told of the observations which led him to his opinion as to Remus' sanity or insanity he was not permitted to state his conclusions. He was ready, however, to say Remus was insane on the fatal day.

Connors was the last witness for the defense ahead of the defendant himself. There was little hope that Remus would be reached before late today, however, for interrogation of Connors was not complete at adjournment yesterday. Completion of Connors' direct testimony and a planned lengthy cross-examination indicated it might be Monday before Remus would get to the witness stand.

The appearance of the mysterious Connors brought the high point of an otherwise dull and dreary session. From the very inception of the murder trial his name had played a part in the interrogation of nearly every witness.

The prosecution in its opening statement named Connors as one of three who planned with Remus the slaying of Mrs. Remus. It would be shown, the state asserted, that when Remus killed his wife he was not a transitorily insane loy slayer, but instead he was a coolly calculating executioner appointed at a conspiracy hatched the previous night. Connors, Blanche Watson, Remus' secretary, and George Klug, who drove the Remus' automobile into Eden park where Mrs. Remus was shot, were named as the conspirators with Remus.

London, (AP)—Baroness Funnivall, who is a peeress in her own right and one of the most attractive young women in London society, has adopted the stage as a career.

The baroness is 26 years old and bears a title which was created in 1925. She is the wife of Commander A. W. S. Agar, who won the Victoria Cross in the Great War.

Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce in President Coolidge's cabinet, once held a high office in the Chinese government, having been the first director general of mines when China created a department of mines in 1899.

DUCO Paint

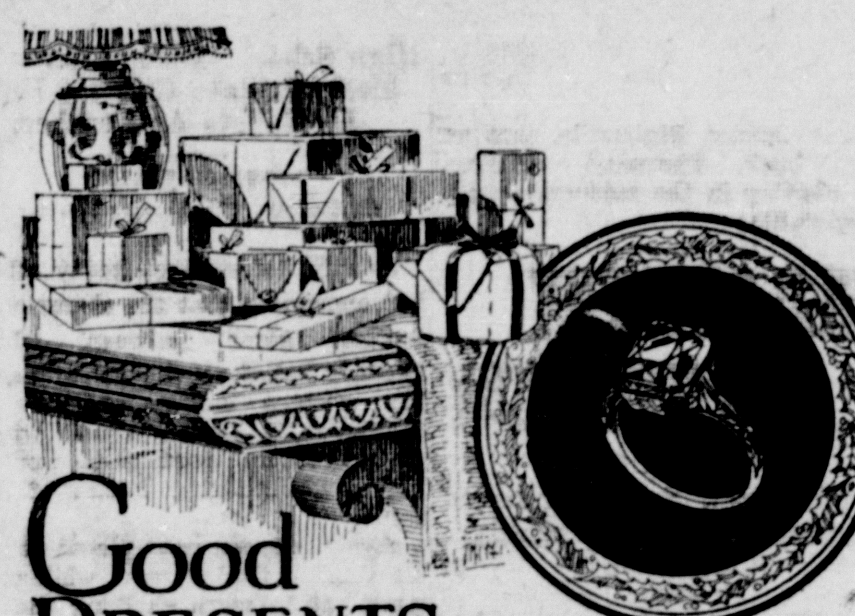

The quick-drying finish seen on automobiles and fine furniture—now available to be applied with a brush, by any one, for use in and about the home. It dries with an eggshell gloss and is hard, tough and durable.

Duco is not a paint or a varnish, but a pyroxylin finish, and because of this difference calls for a different way of applying it. But the new way is easier and quicker.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, Albert S. Powley, who departed this life, December 3, 1926.

Sad and sudden was the call,
One year ago he left us all,
Called from the world to a peaceful rest,
Called by the Lord, who loved him best.

Rest, dear husband, your work is done;
Life's sorrows are over, your crown is won,
With saints and angels around the throne,
The bliss of heaven is now your own.

The cup was bitter, the loss severe,
To part with him, I loved so dear;
The trial was hard, I prayed in vain,
But hope to meet with Christ again.

Out of the Past
Happenings of Days Gone by as Chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times, the Files Reveal.

TEN YEARS AGO
Many Weddings on Thanksgiving Day.—Schriver—Stultz.—Miss Mary M. Stultz, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Stultz, of Highland township, and Harry T. Schriver, of East Middle street, were married at the home of the bride at three o'clock Thursday afternoon by Rev. Paul R. Pontius.
The ceremony was performed under a wedding bell in the parlor which was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, ferns and potted plants, the color scheme being pink and green. Mrs. Preston Hull, of Gettysburg, played the wedding march. The bride's parents were the attendants.
The bride wore a taupe colored suit with a black hat. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and maiden hair fern.
A dinner was served after the ceremony and the newly married couple left during the afternoon by automobile for a wedding trip to points in Maryland. Upon their return they will reside at the bridegroom's home on East Middle street.

Hankey—Power.—Miss Eileen P. Power, of Baltimore street, and Lieutenant Ralph V. Hankey, stationed at Camp Meade, were married in Baltimore on Thursday afternoon by Rev. Louis O'Donovan.
The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Power and for some time has been in the employ of the Gettysburg Department store. Lieutenant Hankey was one of the students from Gettysburg, who successfully completed the course of training at the Fort Niagara camp in May. He is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity at college and is well known here.

Weikert—Carbaugh.—Miss Grace E. Carbaugh and Paul I. Weikert, of McKnightstown, were married at 8:30 o'clock Thanksgiving morning at the Lutheran parsonage, Littlestown, by Rev. W. K. Fleck. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Carbaugh, of St. Thomas.

After the ceremony the couple left on a honeymoon trip to Baltimore and Washington, D. C. Upon their return they will reside at McKnightstown where Mr. Weikert is employed in the garage business.

Bibus—Reinecker.—Miss Ruth Reinecker, of Gettysburg, and W. H. Bibus, Jr., of Philadelphia, were married at St. Francis Xavier church on Wednesday by Rev. W. F. Boyle.

The bride was formerly one of the operators at the United Telephone exchange in Gettysburg. They will make their home in Philadelphia.

Miller—Robinson.—Miss Nellie Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Robinson, of Stevens street, and John J. Miller, of Lebanon, were married at the Methodist parsonage

Thanksgiving morning by Dr. R. S. Oyler.
The bride was formerly employed at the United Telephone exchange and the Eberhart garage, at the latter place as bookkeeper. She was a graduate of Gettysburg high school in 1913.
After a honeymoon trip they will reside in Pittsburgh.

Truitt—Oyler.—Miss Helen E. Oyler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Oyler, and Charles A. Truitt, of the French Mortar Battery, were married at the Methodist parsonage in Hagerstown Thursday.
Miss Oyler and Mr. Truitt went away on Wednesday without the knowledge of her parents.

Scarlet Fever Case.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Myers, East Middle street, has been placed under quarantine. Their daughter, Miss Lila Myers, is suffering from scarlet fever.

Gettysburg Lost Its Final Game.—History repeated itself at Lancaster on Thursday, when the Gettysburg college football team suffered defeat at the hands of Franklin and Marshall 7-0. It was another case of Gettysburg having decidedly the better season of the two teams, only to fall down in the closing game.

The Lancaster college had been defeated by every team it met until yesterday and had scored only one touchdown during the entire ten weeks.

Gets First Deer.—Francis Beck, West Middle street, was the first Gettysburgian to bring down a buck. Mr. Beck was hunting near Buchanan Valley this morning when he shot one with six prongs and weighing 130 pounds.

Pretty Evening Home Ceremony.—A quiet-home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Widder, on West Middle street, at eight o'clock, Tuesday evening, when their only daughter, Miss Goldie Widder, was married to Lieutenant John Campbell Gray, of Worcester, Massachusetts.

The parlor of the home in which the ceremony was performed was decorated with ferns and potted plants while several American flags were hung from the walls.

Miss Lottie Raffensperger played the wedding march as the couple entered the parlor. The bride was gowned in white satin trimmed with lace. She wore a veil and carried bride's roses. The flower girl, little Mildred Widder, carried pink carnations. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. E. Taylor.

The bride is a graduate of the Gettysburg high school and for several years has been one of the operators at the Bell telephone exchange. Lieutenant Gray is with the 312th Infantry and is stationed at Camp Dix. They will make their home at Wrightstown for the present.

Talk to High School.—One of the first lectures pertaining to Community Civics was given this morning at the high school building by George Black. His talk was on the "Post-office Work and the Civil Service Examination." An effort is being made to have other prominent business men of the town to give lectures similar to this once a week.

Personal Notes.—Miss Emma Frommyer, Chambersburg street, has gone to South Bethlehem to visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Howard Garvin, for several days.

Dorsey Rebert, who has been spending several weeks in McKnightstown and Gettysburg, has gone to West Palm Beach, Florida, for the winter.

Dr. and Mrs. M. T. Dill, of Biglerville, announce the birth of a daughter. Mrs. Dill is at the hospital at Huntingdon.

Miss Ruth Raffensperger and Miss Effie Singley have returned to Carlisle to resume their studies in the Carlisle Commercial college, after spending their Thanksgiving vacation at their homes in this place.

ON GIVING UP
Time was when duty bade me stay?
While pleasure danced along the way?
Regretfully I used to say:
"Ill-luck is mine."
'Tis bitter fate that I must miss.
So very rare a test as this,
To stay where gloomy business is
—And toe the line."

Keen disappointment was my lot,
I thought it hard that I could not Always be Johnny-on-the-spot
Where fun was rife.
And not to go where others went
Gayly to see some big event
Harried by soul with discontent
And spoiled my life.

But older now I can forego
The sweetest pleasures which I know
And never sign of anger show.
Joys great and small
So crowd the swift days flying by
That I refuse to frown or sigh
At missing some. I've learned that I Can't have them all.

And so unto myself I say:
"Enjoy what fortune sends today.
But when some pleasure gets away
Remember this:
Don't sit around and sigh and frown
Wailing that life has thrown you down.
The strongest, richest man in town
Some joys must miss."

Isaac Helwanger says you can always tell which way a tree is going to fall by the way it is leaning.

Washington Hocks reads in the weekly paper where the fellow that dictates the styles for all the women and girls has ordered all of them to let out their skirts about two inches around the bottom. But Wash don't see how they can, as there is not enough extra goods in the dress to do that.

Flim Dillard has been quite sick for the past few days, but is better at this writing. However, he is not expected to recover sufficiently to pay the doctor.

Minnie Lohr and Burnadette Thomas are spending several days in Wilmington.

Mrs. Joseph Kendlehart has gone to Harrisburg where Mr. Kendlehart has accepted a position and where they will make their home.

Mrs. Annie Wilson, Chambersburg street, has gone to Altoona for the winter months.

Now, let me think. In the last story our little rabbit was learning about the habits of donkeys from his old friend, Donkey Long Ears. So he was. The old donkey was trotting along the road and the little rabbit was hopping by his side, lipperty lip, clipperty clip. By and by they both stopped to rest near a clump of hemlock trees.
"Oh, I do hope I can win the prize that Professor Jim Crow has offered to the scholar who knows the most about animals," sighed the little rabbit, looking up anxiously at the old donkey.

"Let me think. Maybe I can tell more about the donkey," mused the long eared animal. "I think I told you that he is at home in mountainous countries, where he is used to carry heavy packs up the winding roads, being so sure footed that he never stumbles. Oh, yes, in the old countries across the sea and in Mexico and South America he is used as a beast of burden more frequently than the horse, and for his size can carry a heavier load than any other four footed animal."

"You did tell me that," said the little bunny.
"Well, I mustn't repeat," apologized the old donkey. "No, I mustn't do that. Let me think. I remember hearing once that in Switzerland on dangerous roads a donkey is often hitched in front of four teams of horses, the driver knowing that he will lead far better than a horse. The donkey keeps to the middle of the road, avoids ruts and uses his brains when a dangerous place is reached. Yes, Bunnikins, that little donkey never makes a mistake in leading the four teams of horses. He seems to know by instinct just what to do."

Leading Authorities Urge Automatic Motor Protection

as the only effective means of fighting dangerous cold—and breaking car owners of the costly cold weather "choke" habit

At 60° Fahrenheit, cold, the destroyer, strikes at the very heart of your motor. And until temperatures go well above 60° in the spring your motor is in constant danger.

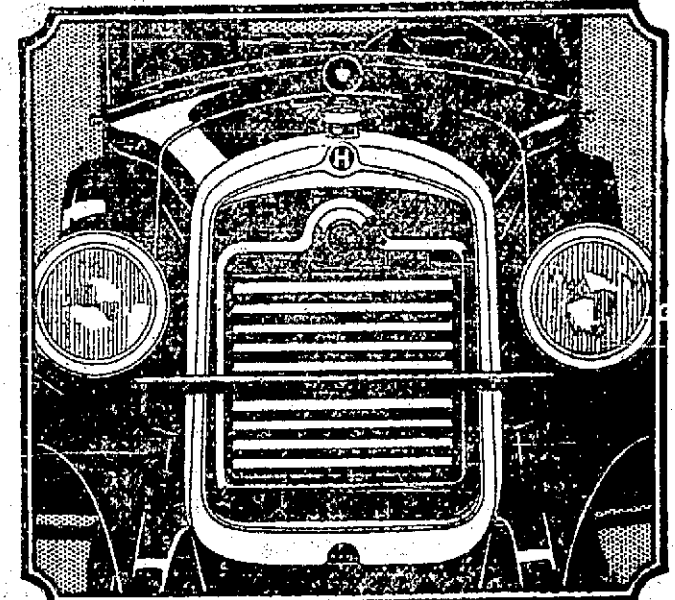

You may not know when damage occurs until spring finds you paying a big repair bill. One hour of neglect may bring such damage.

Thus it is a serious mistake to trust motor protection to memory. It must be automatic—timed with scientific exactness to the operation of your motor—leaving you no chance to guess or forget.

Be safe this year—take the advice of leading car authorities and equip your car at the first sign of cold with Pines Automatic Winterfront—the only automatic radiator shutter on the market.

"Over-choking" warns you!

Coughing, spitting noises and delayed starting are the danger signals. Out comes your "choke"—flooding cold cylinders and cylinder walls with raw gasoline. Glass-like metal surfaces are washed clean of the vital oil film of protection. Vital motor parts are exposed to grinding friction. Excessive dilution follows, fouled spark plugs, high gas consumption, extreme carbonization, corrosion and rapid cylinder wear. These are the troubles that bring big repair bills—troubles for which cold alone is responsible.

Models for all cars priced $22.50 to $30.00. Special models for Ford, $15; Chevrolet, $17.50; Dodge Four, $20.

Winterfront ends these dangers automatically

The radiator on your car was put there to waste heat—thus to prevent overheating in hot weather. An efficient radiator throws away 35% to 40% of the heat of the fuel. At 60° Fahrenheit there is no heat to spare, yet heat-waste continues through the radiator. Obviously, therefore, the only place to efficiently control motor temperature is at the radiator, where heat-waste occurs.

Pines Automatic Winterfront completely covers the radiator and remains closed until the motor is warm enough to operate without damage to vital parts. The shutters then begin to open, automatically, allowing the entrance of exactly enough cool air to maintain a scientifically correct temperature.

Important—When your motor stops Winterfront front shutters start to close and are fully closed while your motor is hot. Thus you are certain always of complete motor protection. There is no chance for dangerous neglect.

With a Winterfront on your car you "warm-up" in seconds. You lose the dangerous "choke" habit because Winterfront eliminates the need for it. Your motor starts quicker and easier with less battery strain. You enjoy a noticeable increase in gasoline economy—snug warmth inside your car—summer-time smoothness and flexibility in your motor.

Put on your car in ten minutes

Pines Automatic Winterfront is for sale by automobile and accessory dealers everywhere. It is installed in less than ten minutes without changes of any nature to your car.

Pines Automatic Winterfront is the only Automatic Radiator Shutter on the Market.
It is automatic because—
There is no other way to assure you of timely, constant protection against the destroying force of cold. When cold strikes, Winterfront is always ready. You can't forget to operate it. There's nothing to remember. Its results are possible only because it is automatic.

The motor car dealer who recommends sells you a Pines Automatic Winterfront is considering your interests first. Take his advice. Your dealer will supply you.

Out of the Past

Happenings of Days Gone by as Chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times, the Files Reveal.

TEN YEARS AGO

Many Weddings on Thanksgiving Day.—Schriver—Stultz—Miss Mary M. Stultz, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Stultz, of Highland township, and Harry T. Schriver, of East Middle street, were married at the home of the bride at three o'clock Thursday afternoon by Rev. Paul R. Pontius.

The ceremony was performed under a wedding bell in the parlor which was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, ferns and potted plants, the color scheme being pink and green. Mrs. Preston Hull, of Gettysburg, played the wedding march. The bride's parents were the attendants. The bride wore a taupe colored suit with a black hat. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and maiden hair fern.

A dinner was served after the ceremony and the newly married couple left during the afternoon by automobile for a wedding trip to points in Maryland. Upon their return they will reside at the bridegroom's home on East Middle street.

Hankey—Power.—Miss Eileen P. Power, of Baltimore street, and Lieutenant Ralph V. Hankey, stationed at Camp Meade, were married in Baltimore on Thursday afternoon by Rev. Louis O'Donovan.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Power and for some time has been in the employ of the Gettysburg Department store. Lieutenant Hankey was one of the students from Gettysburg, who successfully completed the course of training at the Fort Niagara camp in May. He is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity at college and is well known here.

Weikert—Carbaugh.—Miss Grace E. Carbaugh and Paul I. Weikert, of McKnightstown, were married at 8:30 o'clock Thanksgiving morning at the Lutheran parsonage, Littlestown, by Rev. W. K. Fleck. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Carbaugh, of St. Thomas.

After the ceremony the couple left on a honeymoon trip to Baltimore and Washington, D. C. Upon their return they will reside at McKnightstown where Mr. Weikert is employed in the garage business.

Bibus—Reinecker.—Miss Ruth Reinecker, of Gettysburg, and W. H. Bibus, Jr., of Philadelphia, were married at St. Francis Xavier church on Wednesday by Rev. W. F. Boyle.

The bride was formerly one of the operators at the United Telephone exchange in Gettysburg. They will make their home in Philadelphia.

Miller—Robinson.—Miss Nellie Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Robinson, of Stevens street, and John J. Miller, of Lebanon, were married at the Methodist parsonage

Thanksgiving morning by Dr. R. S. Oyer.

The bride was formerly employed at the United Telephone exchange and the Eberhart garage, at the latter place as bookkeeper. She was a graduate of Gettysburg high school in 1913.

After a honeymoon trip they will reside in Pittsburgh.

Truitt—Oyer.—Miss Helen E. Oyer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Oyer, and Charles A. Truitt, of the Trench Mortar Battery, were married at the Methodist parsonage in Hagerstown Thursday.

Miss Oyer and Mr. Truitt went away on Wednesday without the knowledge of her parents.

Scarlet Fever Case.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Myers, East Middle street, has been placed under quarantine. Their daughter, Miss Lila Myers, is suffering from scarlet fever.

Gettysburg Lost Its Final Game.—History repeated itself at Lancaster on Thursday, when the Gettysburg college football team suffered defeat at the hands of Franklin and Marshall 7-0. It was another case of Gettysburg having decidedly the better season of the two teams, only to fall down in the closing game.

The Lancaster college had been defeated by every team it met until yesterday and had scored only one touchdown during the entire ten weeks.

Gets First Deer.—Francis Beck, West Middle street, was the first Gettysburgian to bring down a buck. Mr. Beck was hunting near Buchanan Valley this morning when he shot one with six prongs and weighing 130 pounds.

Pretty Evening Home Ceremony.—A quiet home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Widder, on West Middle street, at eight o'clock, Tuesday evening, when their only daughter, Miss Goldie Widder, was married to Lieutenant John Campbell Gray, of Worcester, Massachusetts.

The parlor of the home in which the ceremony was performed was decorated with ferns and potted plants while several American flags were hung from the walls.

Miss Lottie Raffensperger played the wedding march as the couple entered the parlor. The bride was dressed in white satin trimmed with lace. She wore a veil and carried bride's roses. The flower girl, little Mildred Widder, carried pink carnations. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. E. Taylor.

The bride is a graduate of the Gettysburg high school and for several years has been one of the operators at the Bell telephone exchange. Lieutenant Gray is with the 312th Infantry and is stationed at Camp Dix. They will make their home at Wrightstown for the present.

Talk to High School.—One of the first lectures pertaining to Community Civics was given this morning at the high school building by George Black. His talk was on the "Post-office Work and the Civil Service Examination." An effort is being made to have other prominent business men of the town to give lectures similar to this once a week.

Personal Notes.—Miss Emma Frommyer, Chambersburg street, has gone to South Bethlehem to visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Howard Garvin, for several days.

Dorsey Rebert, who has been spending several weeks in McKnightstown and Gettysburg, has gone to West Palm Beach, Florida, for the winter.

Dr. and Mrs. M. T. Dill, of Biglerville, announce the birth of a daughter. Mrs. Dill is at the hospital at Huntingdon.

Miss Ruth Raffensperger and Miss Effie Singley have returned to Carlisle to resume their studies in the Carlisle Commercial college, after spending their Thanksgiving vacation at their homes in this place.

On holidays bright colored ribbons are woven in his mane and tail, and when so dressed and no work to do, he is happy; there is no long journey for him to take; no heavy load to carry over mountains and through deep valleys; he can enjoy a holiday with his master and listen to the music and watch the merry makers at the carnival."

"Ha, ha!" laughed the little rabbit. "I'm glad to hear that sometimes a donkey has a good time."

"Now, I guess you've heard all I know about my family," said Donkey Long Ears. "I think, if you remember all I've told you, that Professor Jim Crow will be surprised at your knowledge of donkeys."

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ON MOODS

WE ARE almost as thoroughly mastered by our moods as by our habits. One of the most difficult of tasks is to do something against our mood.

But we have to live quite a while before we come to realize that our moods are quite as submissive as other things. Just don't let your mood get the idea that it can ever be boss! I know a man who told me that he could never do a certain thing excepting when he was in the mood. But most of us have to do things that we do not always relish, each day, mood or no mood. So we do them.

If you pumper a mood, or moods, you never know how far that mood, or moods, may lead you into trouble.

Too many of us wait for favorable moods in which to do our work, or some special work. Often the mood never arrives—and if it does, it usually arrives too late for profitable use.

As a matter of fact, we make most of our moods on the spot. But it is also true that many of our good moods are neglected or brushed aside and thereby made valueless.

It is also a good practice to take advantage of our best moods to work in them to the limit. In this way, our ability to bring on good moods and make them our servants is greatly enhanced.

He who acts when he is in the mood to act usually becomes a very active individual.

Emerson speaks of the man who runs away today with our own neglected thoughts of yesterday.

We are creatures of moods. Sometimes they enslave us, but mostly they are able to enliven us and serve us. But we should always favor our moods and get from them all they have to offer.

Our moods float about us somewhat like the clouds of the sky. They lend background and color and interest. But we, who own them, should do all the training. It is possible for us even to command moods, to muster them into our service, and to make them our allies.

Happiness is a mood!

CHRYSLER OWNER IS CONSISTENT

Richmond Lays Claim to Having "Champ" Owners of Speedy Cars.

Richmond, Virginia, lays claim to having the champion Chrysler owners in the respective classes of users and buyers.

The outstanding user at Richmond is Clarence Nickleberry, operator of a gasoline station a few miles from the city limits. He purchased one of the early Chrysler 6 models, a phaeton. Nickleberry likes to ride, and fast at that. Satisfied with the speed and economy of his car he has been reluctant to make a change until such a time as it will no longer serve him faithfully.

To date he has operated the "King", as the car is affectionately called by all who are familiar with it, more than 119,000 miles. And this has been done at service costs far under what is ordinarily spent for repairs.

The "King" is still a smooth running, easy handling car, free from vibration and noise and Mr. Nickleberry thinks it will be good for thousands of miles more before it will need overhauling.

In decided contrast to Nickleberry is N. W. Royall. He also operates a gasoline station and on the same road. Mr. Royall freely admits he is "Chrysler Crazy".

Within the past two years this young man has owned ten Chryslers and has two more on order at the present time. His cars have been owned in the following order: "70" roadster; "70" coach; "58" roadster; "70" roadster; "50" coach; "50" roadster; "70" roadster; "50" coach; "70" landau sedan; "52" sedan. The cars on order are a "72" roadster and a "52" coupe. For the coupe he has designed a special delivery body to use as a commercial car between his gas station and tourist camp and his two downtown confectionery stores. Each of the cars, Royall claims, has been used from 10,000 to 17,000 miles and all were traded in as soon as valves needed grinding or the tires started to show some wear.

"I'm Chrysler crazy, I guess," says Royall, "and I like 'em new."

USED CARS NOW ARE IN DEMAND

Influence of New Ways of Building Machines Felt in Second Hand Sales.

By A. H. Sarvis
Assistant General Sales Manager
Buick Motor Company

The startling refinements which our motor cars have undergone in the last few years have exerted upon the used car an influence quite as profound as that which the new cars themselves reflect. We need only glance at the proportions which the used car business has assumed, to realize that the used car of today must be an entirely different quantity from the commodity which went under that name a comparatively short time ago.

There are several reasons for the public's growing tendency to buy cars with confidence. The ultimate reason, of course, is that such confidence is being justified to a greater and greater degree with each passing year, by the performance of used cars themselves. Every possible agency is cooperating to bring this about, to surround the purchase of a used car with the same assurance of owner satisfaction as goes with a new car.

The fact that the motor car leaving the factory today is a vastly better product than any of its predecessors is the greatest single factor in the rising desirability of the used car. The industry's constant effort to build better is steadily increasing the amount of dependable transportation delivered with each new car. Consequently, there is a greater and greater reserve of service left when the original owner yields to the lure of a new machine. Improved design, and better materials and workmanship play their parts in bringing this condition about, and so does the interesting process which might be termed the evolution of the car user.

The world is not yet fully educated to the use of the motor car. We know much more about maintaining, operating and dodging vehicles than we did 25 years ago, but fifty years hence we shall know far more about these things than we do now. Usage will implant them in the blood. And even the development which the car user has undergone to date is contributing, not only to our safety, but to the amount of service our motor cars yield.

SHIELD CLEANERS MUST BE ON CARS

Machines Must Be Equipped With Accessory or Owner Is Liable to Fine.

A penalty of $5 fine or three days in jail faces motorists who fail to have their motor vehicles equipped with proper windshield cleaning devices, under the new motor code, Benjamin G. Eynon, registrar of motor vehicles, said yesterday. The same is true, he said, of those who have such a device but fail to have it working properly. The new law specifies that vehicles equipped with a permanent windshield are affected.

"Not a few accidents in rain, snow, fog and inclement weather," he said, "are due to the failure of owners or operators of motor vehicles to equip their vehicles with a wiper or device for removing the substance from the windshield or to keep such wiper or device in proper working order. The law, in respect to the latter, places the responsibility upon the operator as it demands that equipment be so constructed that it can be operated or controlled by the operator of the vehicle and this means that the motor vehicle must not only be equipped with a wiper or device in proper working order, but that the operator must have it working when it is raining, snowing, foggy or the weather is such that it causes the accumulation of moisture upon the windshield."

The Emperor Nero did not play on a fiddle while Rome was burning since the instrument is first mentioned in history some fifteen centuries after Nero and, if the legend be true, the instrument was probably a lyre.

Measure Value in the $725 class by New Chrysler 52

The New Chrysler "52" owner best knows the utmost in motor car performance, comfort and luxury that $725 can buy.

For he has daily experience of its smooth, unflinching speed, typical Chrysler acceleration and high gasoline mileage.

He rides in substantial wood and steel bodies of full size for adult passengers; on saddle spring seat cushions.

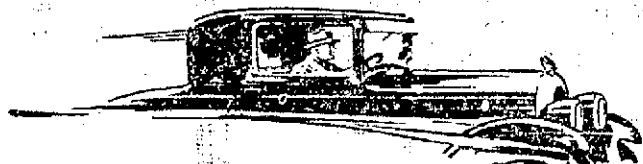

His Chrysler "52" has richer fittings and equipment, upholstery of finer texture and color harmonies so much more striking.

Let the New Chrysler "52" be your measure of value in this price field. Inspect carefully its body features. Then test its performance by actual riding and driving. You, too, will then choose the New Chrysler "52."

PONTIAC SIX

In the Hudson high-compression design, the raw gas enters through intake valve and falls directly on exhaust valve. The hot exhaust valve is thus a hot spot which thoroughly warms the gasoline, while the liquid tends to keep the valve cool. This makes a cold motor operate on regular gasoline with the snap which other types lack through special fuels. Crankcase dilution is prevented and fuel once wasted is turned to useful power. And there is more power, greater economy and longer life.

Note the special combustion chamber which is formed by the cylinder bore and the location of the spark plug with relation to the cylinder and piston. Instead of the violent initial explosion taking place immediately above the piston, it occurs at the remotest part of the special chamber, which cushions its severity and greatly increases its power. By the time the pressure reaches the piston, its violent harshness and roughness is entirely absent and the Hudson gets away with the dash and smoothness of a steam engine—and the desirable performance is accomplished with low-grade fuel.

This Leadership exclusive in High-Compression Performance

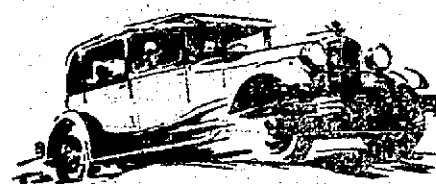

The almost universal trend to the high-compression motor only serves to emphasize the exclusive method, advantages and results achieved by the Hudson Super-Six in this development.

While conventional types depend upon special, costlier fuels to minimize roughness, the Hudson design uses any gasoline, delivering the extra power with the elastic smoothness of a steam engine.

Combined with the Super-Six principle this new invention makes Hudson the most powerful and economical car per pound weight in the world.

The extraordinary speed of Hudson getaway is but a single expression of the brilliant activity of the New Hudson Super-Six, which is carried on to every phase of performance. You see it in the rapidity with which it rolls into high speed; the effortless ease with which it sustains fast going; the long, reliable service through which it maintains its smooth and brilliant performance.

A single ride will explain why this has been the most enthusiastically accepted Hudson ever built.
